Bruce High Quality Foundation University (BHQFU) is New York's Freest Art School. Founded in 2009 by the anonymous art collective The Bruce High Quality Foundation, its mission is to provide 100% tuition-free classes, residencies, workshops, exhibitions, and public programs year-round to a community of thousands of New Yorkers. BHQFU is an alternative to contemporary art education in spite of professionalization. Its curriculum is enriched by a robust program of exhibitions through the project space FUG (Foundation University Gallery).
